CUPID'S ARROW.

-One of the most beautiful weddings that has been celebrated this season, was that of Miss Amelia Clay and Mr. Samuel Clay, both of this county, which took place at the elegant old country home "Runnymeade," the residence of the bride's parents, Col. and Mrs. E. F. Clay, on Wednesday. It was a quiet marriage, only relatives and a few intimate friends being present, and was celebrated at high noon. Rev. Carey Morgan, pastor of the Christian church, officiated.

The beautiful decorations were in white and green and were attractively carried out in all details. Each room was banked with great palms, ferns and a quantity of white blossoms. In the drawing room where the ceremony was performed, white chrysanthemums were used entirely. A lovely altar and chancel were formed of the green and white blossoms and was brilliantly lighted with the Cathedral candles. The bride entered with the bridegroom and was preceded by the two bridesmaids and only attendants, the bride's sisters, Miss Mary Clay and Miss Sallie Lockhart, and stood in a graceful group about the pretty background of green and white. The bride's gown was a beautiful imported creation of lace over white satin, a tulle veil was caught in her hair with orange blossoms, and she carried a large boquet of white roses. She is a lovely young woman and looked sweet in her bridal robes. The pretty bridesmaids looked handsome in white silk mull gowns over white silk and carried bunches of pink roses.

After the ceremony congratulations followed and an elegant wedding luneheon was served. The bride's table was in the dining room, which was decorated in white roses, lillies of the valley and greens. The center-piece for the table was a large placque of white roses, lillies and smilax, and the white candles were held in silver candelabra, and the mints, cakes and ices were in the wedding towns, green and white, the latter at the bridal table being designed as hearts and cupids, and for the wedding guests were in shapes of diff-vent fruit. A delicious menu was served, during which happy toasts were drunk to the bridal couple for their future health and happiness. The bride is very handsome and accomplished The bridegroom is a distant relative of the bride and is also a member of the prominent Clay family, He is a wealthy young business man and popular in social circles. After the luncheon they left for a trip to California, and on their return will make their home on the bridegroom's handsome Seated with the bride and bridegroom at the bride's table were: Miss Bedord pike, being part of the late Samuel C. Bedford land. About forty-five acres of corn land to be seeded to ander, Miss Martha Clay, Miss Nannie Clay, Miss Lockhart, Miss Kate Alexsmall grain, the rest pasture land, with Clay; Messrs. Ezekial Clay, Buckner Clay, Brutus Clay, Catesby Spears. Other guests were served at smaller tables in the different rooms, which were also decorated in green and white. Just before their departure the wedding cake was cut, with many wishes for the happy couple. It was a beautiful basket design, covered with white roses and on the high handle was tied an artistic bow of white ribbon.

Prof. Hicks' November Weather.

Prof. Irl R. Hicks, the noted weather prophet, warns us that along about today and to-morrow we may look out for noticable rise in temperature, falling barometer and return of general storm conditions. Rains, turning to snow in the north, will visit most sections of the country. A marked change to colder may be expected about the 7th to 9th inclusive. The Vulcan storm period is due the 10th to the 15th to be followed by a reactionary storm period central from the 17th to the 20th. A regular storm period is predicted covering with its influence the 22d to 27th.

"Upon the whole," concludes Prof. Hicks, "the outlook for November is not so perturbed and stormy as October promisesd to be. Some unpleasant weather, with occasional and forceful has secured the services of a first-class storminess may be counted on, but not German barber to take charge of his to any unusual or phenomenal extent. neat little barber shop, at the Fordham. In fact, much pleasant autumnal and invites his friends to call and give him a share of their trade. First-class weather may be expected through November and into December."
